[redacted] advised he is on a [redacted] from [redacted]. He stated that during March, 1971, he had been in Toronto, Canada, for a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Science Fiction Research Association, Inc., and en route back to [redacted] spent a day in Cambridge, Massachusetts, at the Massachusetts Historical Society obtaining material for a biography on [redacted] a novelist. He said he departed Toronto on March 21, 1971, in the company of [redacted]

b6
b7C

[redacted] remarked they arrived in Cambridge, Massachusetts, the same day and, since [redacted] was unable to have him as an overnight guest in his home, [redacted] made a reservation for him at the Continental Hotel in Cambridge. He stated he checked into the Continental Hotel sometime between 7:30 - 8:00 p.m. on March 21, 1971, and remained in his room for the remainder of the night. He commented he checked out of the hotel before 9:00 a.m., the next day.

b7C

[redacted] stated that during the evening hours of March 21, 1971, he heard no unusual sounds or traffic in the hallway nor observed any suspicious acting person at the hotel when he arrived and departed.

b7C

Photographs of [redacted] and [redacted] and DANIEL ELLSBERG were displayed to [redacted] and he advised he does not know these individuals by name and had not observed them during his overnight stay at the Continental Hotel.

[redacted] In connection with his position, he lectures throughout the country on behalf of his organization. He advised that his lectures are designed to bring to the attention of the American public the Palestinian plight, which because of Jewish aggression in the Mid East has served to displace thousands of Palestinians from the land which is rightfully theirs. He travels throughout the country and for approximately nine months of the year conducts lectures on an average of two times a week. He further commented that a report of his lectures is made up periodically and furnished to the Justice Department in Washington, D.C., because of his position in behalf of a foreign government.

FEDERAL BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION

Date of transcription 11/4/71

On October 29, 1971, [redacted]

[redacted] furnished the following information:

b6
b7C

At approximately 4:30 p.m., on either June 23 or 24, 1971, he received a phone call at his office, 7 West 66th Street, New York City, in which the caller offered him 1,000 pages of "Fresh" material from the Pentagon Papers. He explained he knew the exact time and date because he received an inquiry concerning that call approximately ten days ago from a reporter named [redacted] (phonetic) from the Washington Post.

Along with that offer, the caller identified himself as [redacted]. He wanted a guarantee in advance that once he furnished the material, [redacted] would then be obligated to broadcast that information in those papers. [redacted] stated he was aware of the fact that the Justice Department had already obtained a Federal injunction on three newspapers, New York Times, Washington Post, and a Boston paper, restraining them from publishing any information from the classified Pentagon Papers. As a result, he advised [redacted] he would have to clear this with [redacted] attorneys. [redacted] agreed and stated he would call back within an hour. During that hour, the attorneys advised him that in view of the outstanding Federal injunction against the newspapers, they felt the firm could be held in contempt if they used that material and they advised him to decline [redacted] offer. [redacted] then alerted the [redacted] switchboard operator and asked her to attempt to determine from what city [redacted] was calling. In view of the new dial system, she was unable to determine if it was a local or long distance call.

b7C

When [redacted] called, he was advised of the attorneys' decision and [redacted] thanked him and then hang up.

b6
b7C

[redacted] then added the following comments: concerning the above offer: At no time did the caller ask for any money and it appeared he was primarily interested in getting nationwide dissemination of the material. He also noted the caller at one point indicated that he had also been in contact with CBS and NBC with the same offer.

[redacted] telephone number [redacted] advised he had a casual acquaintance with DANIEL ELLSBERG during the years 1956 to 1959 while they were attending Harvard University. [redacted] stated that although he knew ELLSBERG slightly, he had learned that ELLSBERG had the reputation for being extremely academic and vigorous in his field of study.

b7C

[redacted] commented that he was acquainted with ELLSBERG's wife [redacted] prior to their marriage and that, in fact, she had sought his legal services during the spring of 1970 to settle an insurance dispute involving [redacted] furniture which had been damaged in transit. [redacted] recalled he made several long distant calls to his client in Washington, D.C., and remembers a call she placed to him during the spring of 1970.

b7C

[redacted] concluded saying that the last time he saw DANIEL ELLSBERG and his wife was during the month of November, 1970, while attending the Harvard-Yale football game in Cambridge, Massachusetts, at which time they exchanged salutations.

DANIEL ELLSBERG

According to the source, Daniel Ellsberg has a Top Secret security clearance with Rand and under the Johnson administration apparently did some work for the Defense Department.

The records at Rand Corporation, Santa Monica, reveal that Daniel Ellsberg was born April 7, 1931, in Chicago, Illinois. He was originally hired by Rand on April 1, 1958. He terminated his employment on October 12, 1964, ostensibly to work for the State Department. The records at Rand reveal that from December, 1966 until June, 1967 Ellsberg served as special assistant to Deputy Ambassador Porter at the American Embassy in Saigon, Viet Nam.

The records at Rand reveal that Ellsberg returned to the Rand Corporation on July 28, 1967, as assistant to the president of Rand and is still employed in that capacity. Ellsberg has a Top Secret clearance.

Ellsberg resides at 20752 Pacific Coast Highway, Malibu, California.

According to [redacted], Rand Corporation, Ellsberg has many high-level contacts within the Government by virtue of his position at Rand Corporation.

On February 18, 1970, [redacted] was telephonically contacted by a Special Agent of the FBI to make an appointment to discuss a matter with her. [redacted] stated that she desired to know the nature of the inquiry. It was explained to her that the matter concerned [redacted] and possibly some documents. [redacted] stated that she desired that the interview be conducted away from her residence and she made an appointment to visit the Los Angeles Office at 11:00 a.m. on February 18, 1970.

DANIEL ELLSBERG

Prior to 11:00 a.m. attorney [redacted] telephonically contacted a Special Agent of the FBI. [redacted] stated he represented [redacted] and had been informed by her that the FBI desired to talk to her. [redacted] stated that if the FBI had anything to discuss with his client, [redacted] that it would have to be in his office, in his presence.

It will be noted that OSI is the cognizant military agency at Rand Corporation. From the information contained in the enclosed LHM, it would appear that if ELLSBERG did in fact make copies of papers that were "Top Secret," they were ostensibly made for Senators of the U.S. Government.

In view of the above, further inquiry in this matter is being left to the discretion of the Bureau. No dissemination of this matter has been made locally.

The Office of Special Investigations (OSI), United States Air Force, has advised that the USAF regulations require that uniform personnel and civilian USAF employees coordinate any contact with Congressional representatives with the Legislative Liaison Office and that classified matters cannot be discussed with Congressional representatives without prior approval of the Legislative Liaison Office. It could not be determined by OSI at this time whether an employee of a USAF contractor, such as Rand Corporation, would be bound by the same regulation; but it was noted that if subject did pass information as noted in referenced LHM, it could not have been with USAF approval.

Reurairtel 5/5/70.

A review of the data developed thus far in this matter shows the basis for investigation is the alleged disclosure of classified information by subject to Senators Fulbright and Goodell. Since the subject has a "Top Secret" clearance, and Senators Fulbright and Goodell may have such a clearance, prior to an interview of subject, an attempt should be made to ascertain if subject had authorization to furnish the information to Fulbright and Goodell by the originating agency of the documents involved. This, of course, is assuming that the allegation is true.

Since subject, at the time allegation occurred, was Assistant to the President of Rand Corporation, it would seem logical that if subject had such an authorization, President of Rand Corporation would be privy to it.

Accordingly, Bureau feels next logical step in this matter is to interview the President of Rand Corporation to determine if he is aware of any authorization given subject to furnish classified data to Senators Fulbright and Goodell. Prior to such an interview, however, Bureau desires to be informed of identity of President of Rand Corporation in order that appropriate Bufiles can be checked. Furnish this data to Bureau promptly together with results of office indices check and your observations regarding an interview of President of Rand Corporation along the above lines.

[] stated that Ellsberg voluntarily terminated as an employee at Rand Corporation on April 16, 1970, and on the same date was rehired as a consultant. Ellsberg reportedly was to accept a senior research associate position at Massachusetts Institute of Technology, commencing in the fall of 1970.

b7C

On June 23, 1970, [] Rand Corporation. was interviewed at his office by Special Agents of the FBI. [] at Rand Corporation, was also present at this interview. [] was apprised of the basic allegations, in that Ellsberg was reported sometime during the recent Christmas holidays to have visited Rand Corporation, []

b6

b7D

[] stated that at no time did Daniel Ellsberg ever discuss furnishing any material of any kind to Senators Fulbright or Goodell. [] stated that if he had been aware that Ellsberg had done such a thing, he would have taken positive action. He continued that naturally Ellsberg had no authority to reproduce any classified documents for anyone. He volunteered that if the above-mentioned Senators or any other Congressmen had formally requested a document, the documents would undoubtedly been made available to them, but in accordance with the proper procedure, i.e., clearing the material and their request for same through the proper channels.

[] mentioned that it goes without saying that he had no definite knowledge as to what documents Ellsberg might have reproduced but he offered that if he were to hazard a guess, it would pertain to documents from the "McNamara Study."

b6
b7C

He stated that the "McNamara Study" was a request by former Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara to compile an outline of Viet Nam and the United States, commencing approximately 1940 up to the present time. Rand Corporation, among others, contributed in compiling this outline. [] stated that the "McNamara Study" which is available at Rand Corporation would be comprised of many volumes and would fill at least two file cabinets. It was determined that certain papers in this particular "McNamara Study" would be classified by the Department of Defense as Secret, Top Secret and in some instances Confidential, depending on the particular paper.

[] elaborated on the above supposition by stating that sometime ago Ellsberg became quite emotional concerning the United States' involvement in Viet Nam. Ellsberg, along with some other individuals at Rand Corporation, wrote a letter, which ultimately appeared in national publications, protesting U.S. involvement in Viet Nam. According to [] this particular writing caused what he termed "raised eyebrows" not only at Rand but in Washington.

[] stated that in rebuttal to this particular paper, some other individuals at Rand Corporation wrote an article defending the U.S. position in the war in Viet Nam.

[] stated that sometime in April 1970 Daniel Ellsberg came to [] and advised him he felt that he would not feel free to express himself as he desired if he continued being employed at Rand Corporation. He stated he felt he would like to be free to speak as he thought. He told [] that if he remained at Rand and the opportunity came where he might like to express his opinion on certain matters, that this could possibly result in embarrassment to the Rand Corporation. [] stated he advised Ellsberg that if he felt that way he agreed that it would be better if he did leave the corporation. [] pointed out that Ellsberg had some unfinished material on which he was working and he requested that Ellsberg complete this work prior to a final separation. Consequently, on the same date that he tendered his resignation at Rand Corporation, he was rehired on a day-to-day consultant basis.

At the time that Ellsberg tendered his resignation he told [] he had secured a position at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and he would be starting in his new position in September. Ellsberg also told [] that he would be remarrying in the near future and [] stated he was not remarrying his former wife.

[] also stated that Ellsberg recently testified before Senator Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee in Washington. He also pointed out that Ellsberg was well known in Washington circles and at one time worked in the Pentagon. He stated Ellsberg, in his opinion, had a very sharp and keen mind but that he was very emotional, particularly in discussions relating to the Viet Nam war.

b7C

On June 30, 1970, [] made available to the Los Angeles Office of the FBI an index of volumes contained in the "McNamara Study." A copy of this index is attached hereto (see Appendix). [] again related that [] was of the opinion that whatever documents or papers Ellsberg might have taken from the Rand Corporation for reproduction might have come from among these volumes, the exact paper or papers naturally being unknown to [] or to []

[] also stated he ascertained that Daniel Ellsberg appeared before Senator Fulbright's Foreign Relations Committee and testified on either May 13 or 14, 1970. He stated he did not know the nature of the testimony nor did he know if it was open testimony.

~~CONFIDENTIAL~~ (U)

DANIEL ELLSBERG

[] also stated that he determined the article which Daniel Ellsberg and other individuals at Rand Corporation had written and which had appeared in a national publication was printed in its entirety in the October 12, 1969, edition of the "Washington Post." He stated that it was his understanding that an editorial relative to this article appeared in the October 10, 1969, issue of the "New York Times" but the article itself was not set forth.

b6
b7c

[] reaffirmed the statement of [] in that Daniel Ellsberg never advised him of his intention to furnish any information to Senator Fulbright or Senator Goodell. He further stated had he indicated a desire to do so, he would not have been granted this permission but that it would have been done in accordance with existing regulations.

ReLAairtel to Bureau dated 5/22/70 and LAlet
and LHM dated 7/7/70.

On 7/16/70, SA [] ascertained that subject had appeared before the U.S. Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, Chairman of which is Senator J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT, on 5/13/70. Subject's appearance before the Committee, which was an open hearing, dealt with the "Impact of the Vietnam War on U.S. Society and the U.S. Economy".
The subject's testimony generally was to the effect that the U.S. should disengage from the Vietnam War, that the U.S. has no vital interest in remaining and controlling Vietnam.

b6
b7C

Subject, who was identified before the Committee
as a Senior Research Associate, Center of International Study, MIT, also indicated he had formerly held the position of Special Assistant to the Assistant Secretary of Defense.
In his testimony subject has referred to the fact that in his position with the Department of Defense he had had official access to official documents. There is no indication he had presented any documents or exhibits in the records in connection with his appearance.

SA [] ascertained that the results of the hearing, including subject's testimony, are presently in the process of being printed and would not be available for approximately one month, at which time WFO can secure a copy if desired. Subject's testimony is in Volume VII in the Report of the Proceedings, pages 602-680.

[redacted]

It is noted that while SA [redacted] was allowed to peruse the rough draft of the results of the hearing concerning subject's testimony, there is a prohibition against obtaining a copy of anything other than the finished product.

On 7/17/70, a microfilm copy of "The Washington Post" dated 10/12/69 was made available to SA [redacted] at the Library of Congress. In this issue under the letter to the editor's section there was printed a letter from DANIEL ELLSBERG, [redacted] and [redacted] all of whom were identified as Rand Corporation employees, Santa Monica, California.

In this letter to the editor, the above set forth their arguments as to why the U.S. should no longer be involved with the Vietnam War. The letter states that the views of the signatories were based on personal judgments and years of professional research on the Vietnam War and related matters.

The arguments against the War in Vietnam were of a general nature only.

LEADS:

Re WFO let to the Director 7/23/70.

After reviewing the facts in this matter and in view of the fact that the subject testified on 5/13/70 before the U.S. Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, of which Senator J. WILLIAM FULBRIGHT is the chairman, it is believed that an interview with subject could be of possible embarrassment to the Bureau. Further, in view of the lapse of time and since Los Angeles is of the opinion that this matter has been discussed between the subject [REDACTED] that nothing of pertinence would be gained by interviewing ELLSBERG at this time.

b6
b7C

Therefore, UACB, WFO may disregard obtaining copies of the testimony of the subject before the Fulbright Committee and Los Angeles will take no further action in this case UACB.
